Vote Confidence in Harmony Council

Ratepayers of the Municipal district of Harmony re-elected their representatives to the council at annual meeting on Saturday. Reeve E. H. Griffin and J. D. Hagerman being the only names given to returning officer Cairns. Peto Holm was named representative for the Carmangay Hospital and J. B. Carlson for the Vulcan Hospital. H. Higgins was a capable chairman for the meeting.

Financial statement was passed with only explanatory questions being asked and a vote of appreciation for the efforts of the council was passed at the close of the meeting. Every effort will be made, Reeve Griffin stated to further reduce land taxes.

Several important matters came up for approval. By vote it was decided to support the council in collection of a poll tax, four dollars per year. Harmony council had instituted a movement and finally secured an amendment to the assessment act with respect to the poll tax. Originally designed to apply to men working in the mines who were in a sense transients and yet received free medical attention from the municipality it being thought just that they should in some way contribute to the municipal revenue, the act now provided that all men over 21 and who were earners but not otherwise paying municipal tax could be asked to pay a poll tax.

No exceptions could be made and this even renters would be brought under the act. The meeting approved of the principle.

Limiting of free distribution of grasshopper poison was another important question. Reeve Griffin explained that last year over a millions pounds of poison had been given out and the difference in the amount used by the farmers indicated that some method of control should be decided upon. After much discussion it was agreed that each farmer should be allowed 15 lbs per acre and after that amount was given he should pay for the mixing.

Council were authorized to purchase the building known as the Bank of Commerce building, now occupied by "The Chronicle" to be used as municipal offices, if a proper deal could be made with the owners. It was felt that the present quarters were too small and it was preferable to have the place of business on the main street of Champion.

In answer to question Reeve Griffin stated that of taxes shown as collectable, he would say that 85 per cent would be paid.

At the previous annual meeting council had been asked to have representatives attending the provincial municipal meeting to give a report. This was done on Saturday by Reeve Griffin and Councillor Matlock who gave a summary of the resolutions which had been discussed. It was revealed that many of the acts which were being passed in the Legislature for the benefit of the municipalities were in fact being originated in the local council here and being carried through the various channels for approval and submission to the government.

In the case of the medical service Reeve Griffin stated that he believed Harmony district enjoyed the most effective method of state medicine practiced in the province.

Many and varied problems were discussed by the meeting such as weed control, the granting of seed grain loan, the cost of which in fact as far as interest charges was concerned, was being borne by the municipality and not the government, received a full measure of discussion but no action was taken.

In addition to the motion of appreciation to the council and clerk, mention was made of the splendid printing job done of the financial statement by "The Chronicle". Mr. Miller who made the motion, stated that when mistakes occur the public are not slow to speak that he felt they should be equally pleased to give credit where it was due.

J. D. Henderson was selected Mayor of Champion at the inaugural meeting of the council on Monday. Henderson was named deputy mayor for three months. Fred Clever will sit for the two year term and Mr. Gill for three years. It was decided.

Only organization business came up for discussion the other item being held over to regular meeting.

Tribute was paid the memory of twelve members who died during the past year.

Roll call of officers resulted as follows: Pres. Guy Walker, Vice Pres. James Ashmore, Sec. D. Chamberlain. Board members: Mrs. W. S. Max, Groves, and George Galbraith.

Science And Agriculture

Perhaps never in the history of Western Canada has what is currently designated the agricultural problem received so much attention as it is doing at the present time. The problem of enabling the farmer to reap a margin of profit on his operations, or even sufficient to cover the cost of production and marketing has not yet been solved.

To a greater or less degree the problem is one that is vexing the whole world, for the agricultural industry is in the doldrums in almost every country on the globe, but due to the character of the industry in Western Canada where the farmer must sell his major product in a highly competitive market and buy the implements of production and necessities of life in a protected industrial sphere the problem is more acute here than anywhere, and this differential has been accentuated in recent years by the vagaries of climatic conditions.

It is not, therefore, surprising to find that the question is uppermost in the minds of all men in the west; that it is receiving foremost attention wherever and wherever men congregate in convention; that the question is being ventilated with greater frequency than any other in the legislative assemblies of the country; that discussion on it and many phases of it occupies much space in the newspapers, farm magazines and other publications; and that it is the subject of inquiry by innumerable organizations and commissions.

With all this discussion going on, on a subject which everyone recognizes as the most vital one in Western Canadian history, it seems a reasonable assumption that if there is a solution, and there must be one if this country is to prosper and have an assured future, it will be found.

As has been suggested before, innumerable proposals have been made as a solution to this great problem. They include among others: international agreements between the great wheat producing countries, national action in the form of subsidization of the agricultural industry by the country as a whole, a method which is now being given a trial with as yet undetermined results; the discovery of new markets; the expansion of existing markets; the stimulation of the home market in the direction of increased consumption; greater diversification of agricultural practice; the conversion of agricultural production to industrial use.

These various proposals, all of which have some merits and some defects, but space and time forbid. All of them other than the plan for the rehabilitation of western agriculture are being heard by the group headed by Premier Bracken of Manitoba which is now making a comprehensive survey of the whole question in the hope of finding the answer to the riddle.

As has also been suggested before, however, it is probable that the ultimate solution of this growing problem does not lie wholly in any one of these orbits, but must lie in a combination of many or all of them, and there are some indications that readjustment is actually taking place, painful and lengthy though the process may be.

It has undoubtedly occurred to many who have given serious thought and study to this problem that at least a partial and a happy solution might be found in some course which would result in a close relationship between agriculture and the manufacturing industries, due to the extent which those two branches of industrial life can be made dependent upon one another, to that extent will both be benefited and the solution of the problems of both be closer to solution.

A Closer Tie-Up

That already something is being done along these lines as the result of research work and the practical application of laboratory findings, was indicated in a recent contribution in the House of Commons by W. G. Wolf, Liberal member for MacDonald, who described some of the things science is doing to bring industry and agriculture together in the United States, when he pointed out that Henry Ford is using in his factories annually 60,000,000 pounds of cotton, 400,000 bushels of corn, 2,300,000 gallons of molasses, 5,200,000 pounds of wool 1,300,000 square feet of lumber, 350,000 pounds of molash and an unlimited supply of soy beans.

Mr. MacDonald stated that these products have been developed from oats and are being sold in the United States—a fine oat flour with peculiar preserving qualities, a pleasing perfume which is competing annually for a share of the $200,000,000 yearly in the U.S. for cosmetics, and tarflour, which when mixed with a bituminous binder and tar, is being used to make satisfactory road surfaces at a cost of $2,500 a mile.

"Alcohol," said Mr. MacDonald, "is now successfully made from corn, sorghum, barley, rice, wheat, and potatoes. Gasoline carrying ten per cent. of this type of alcohol is now being sold in 2,000 U.S. filling stations at prices competitive with gasoline," and quoted an authority for the statement that "within ten years the U.S. will be using 20 per cent. of alcohol in grain alcohol blended with gasoline for motor cars, and that within 20 years this industry will be producing 50 million gallons of 'agriculture' at a selling price of between 15 and 30 cents per gallon with handsome profits."

Mr. MacDonald made his citation in support of a plea for the expenditure of further energy and money for research work, a plea which should not go unheeded in the light of results that have been achieved on the other side of the international boundary and the necessity of applying science to the peculiar problems of Western Canadian agriculture.

Beaver will be called upon in the next few years to do a job too big for man and science, Col. T. C. Newcomer, administrator for Ducks Un-society, declared in an address at Edmonton.

The job, he said, will be restoration of water-levels in lakes and marshes in northern Alberta and Saskatchewan. Three large areas in northeastern Alberta already have been set aside for such work through an arrangement with the Alberta government, he said.

Beaver and possibly muskrats will be stocked at the bottle necks leading from the marshes and lakes to the larger rivers. Col. Newcomer expected supervised trapping in areas would be permitted after five years.
Indians and half-breeds now inhabiting the areas will be employed as paid game guardians, he said.

According To Survey

Women Are Less Likely To Contract
Pneumonia Than Men

Men are more apt to contract pneumonia than women.
This conclusion was reported by the United States Public Health Service on the basis of a survey of pneumonia frequency in 1927. The survey disclosed, the health service said, that the rate among males was six per 1,000 persons and among females 4.9.

No conclusion was reached as to why men are more susceptible.
The report also said it was found that pneumonia strikes with greatest frequency in the lower income groups.
"The pneumonia case rate among relief families was over twice the rate of that among families in the upper income groups," the report said. "There was also an excess in the rates among families who were not on relief, but whose incomes were less than $15 a month."

Deficiency More Marked

Large Number Of Children To-day
Are Not Good Spellings

There are a lot of justifiable complaints against the results of our modern education, and not the least among them is that youngsters to-day are not good at spelling—as a rule. Of course, there have always been those who could not make spelling, but the deficiency seems more marked to-day than ever. Youngsters to-day are undoubtedly more advanced in many things than they were at the same age a generation ago, so perhaps spelling might suffer as a result of this greater general knowledge.

England's Highest Honor

Broite Sisters May Be Commemorated
in Westminster Abbey

The Buffalo Courier-Express says tribute will be paid not only to three Yorkshire novelists, but to fiction writers in the English language and to women in general by the proposed commemoration of the Broite sisters in Westminster Abbey, England's highest honor.

Emily, Charlotte and Anne Broite belong not only to England but to every person anywhere in the world who can read a book in English.
Jane Eyre is one of the great novels, read and beloved by millions in generation after generation; Wuthering Heights, which long was overshadowed by Jane Eyre, has grown in favor during the last few decades, lib-erarians say, and may one day assume status equal to the more famous book in the affection of booklovers.

Both books have been made familiar to the public of stage and screen, and the Broite sisters themselves have been fascinating subjects for biographers, novelists and playwrights.
Many novelists, renowned in their day and perhaps a few years after,
are forgotten now. Few who read today bother to wade through Trollope or Readers or Hardy or Meredith, but the Broite sisters are alive as ever. It is surprising that Westminster Abbey waited for them so long.

Butter Consumption

Consumption of butter in Empire

states the Imperial Economic Com-

in Australia; 32.7 pounds in Canada, and 24.8 pounds in the United Kingdom, compared with 18.6 pounds in Germany; 17.9 pounds in Denmark and Belgium, and 16.7 pounds in the United States.

A RELIGIOUS SEASON.

This week a large number of our readers will commence to observe Lent. While strict adherence to rules of conduct during Lent is confined to one or two of the great churches yet it is being recognized more and more that the season has something of special benefit for all of us irrespective of creed.

Few people will dare question the place of the church in a community, they may not attend or support same, although accepting the services of same if needed. Yet there is something in religion, which every man and woman seek during life and it commands their respect.

Lent is a time for thoughtful consideration of the better way of life. Attend your church on Sunday during Lent, you will benefit by the fellowship and partake of that which the church gives to the community.

ACCORDED RECOGNITION

Ratepayers of Harmony Municipal district are to be commended in their actions of according acclamation to the two councillors whose term expired at their annual meeting on Saturday. After hearing the financial statement read, the replies to questions, and the statement of policies, no man at the meeting could help but be impressed with the fine leadership which this group of men are giving to the district.

Serving on council is too often taken lightly, the matters coming up before them being dealt with but no effort to pursue a policy of progressive legislation for the benefit of the greatest number. The policies enunciated as to health and taxation told of the careful study given by these men.

Responsibility of ratepayers now that the annual meeting is over is however not ended for it is their duty and privilege to now support the council in the carrying out of such regulations as are made.

Speaker's Reception is Brilliant Affair

Newspaper report of the customary reception held in Mr. Speaker's chambers, following the opening of The Alberta Legislature given by the wives of the cabinet ministers received by "The Chronicle" gave a full account of the social event which always attracts wide attention.

Graciously receiving the members of the Legislature their wives and guests in the Speaker's chambers following the opening, wives of the cabinet ministers were tea hour hostesses. Mrs. William Aberhart was unable to be present due to sickness. Receiving the guests were Mrs. W. W. Cross, Mrs. Lucien E. Maynard and Mrs. Solon Low.

Mrs. Cross was a pretty picture in her costume of black and white, black formal skirt and smart white tunic. Her accessories were in black and she wore for her flower a corsage of one pink rose and a pink rose bud. Mrs. Maynard chose black also for her costume. Relieving her ensemble were touches of white and her accessories were in black. Mrs. Solon Low chose a gown of blue for the occasion and with it she wore a shoulder cluster of pink roses, and hat of white.

Presiding at the tea were Mrs. Peter Dawson Mrs. Robert E. Andison and Mrs. L. D. Byrne. Mrs. Dawson shook back with pretty jacketed white lace for her formal afternoon frock and Mrs. Andison a black afternoon frock with black accessories. Mrs. Byrne was lovely in her frock of black tulle, with tunic of black and gold. Her hat was small and veiled.

Set in lace, the tea table was a pretty sight, with its centerpiece a huge silver bowl of flame red tulips, flanked on either side by eggplant tapers.
